and the pertinent facts about its program.

Regarding Clinic Facilities Listed In This Directory

I. CONCEPTION CONTROL SERVICES

In these centers, the services of specially trained physicians may be obtained by those unable to pay the fee of a private physician. All the work done is under the supervision and direction of licensed physicians.

In many centers two or more physicians are associated with the work but, owing to lack of space, it has been possible to include the name of only one physician in this list.

Where clinic service is not available, the State League (where listed) or the Federation is able to refer inquirers to the nearest qualified physicians for advice and instruction.

II. FERTILITY SERVICES

The Directory includes a list of hospitals and centers where services for the diagnosis and treatment of infertility are available. For information regarding fertility services in cities not listed, please address the State League or the Federation.

Notification of new services, changes, or errors will be greatly appreciated.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD—A SUMMARY OF ITS STATUS

WHAT IT IS

Planned parenthood is primarily a health measure. It enables parents to regulate the size of their families and to space their children. It involves the use of medically prescribed methods of birth control and the prevention or treatment of infertility.

ITS BENEFITS

If knowledge of planned parenthood is made available to all married persons, it will contribute substantially to the following:

1. Reduction in infant mortality
2. Reduction in maternal mortality
3. Elimination of induced abortions, 90% of which occur among married women
4. Lessening of inheritable or communicable diseases to which infants are particularly susceptible
5. Elimination of threat of the unwanted child to the emotional stability of the family
6. Creation of happy homes with healthy wanted children
7. Building of a stronger nation through the increased quality of its births

BIRTH CONTROL METHODS

Contraceptive Methods

These consist of mechanical and chemical measures prescribed by a physician trained in this branch of preventive medicine. Clinic records show these methods to be safe, reliable, inexpensive and easy to learn.

Other Methods

Abstinence — Marital abstinence to prevent conception is neither feasible nor desirable. It is unsound, both physiologically and psychologically and tends to destroy the finest qualities in the marital union.

The "Safe Period" (Rhythm Method) — This is based on the theory that in every woman's menstrual cycle there is a period when conception cannot take place. In order to be at all reliable, the "safe period" must be carefully calculated. Even then, anxiety, a cold, a journey or other simple causes may throw the calculation into error.

Sterilization — This method, involving surgery, makes the individual permanently sterile and is recommended by doctors in special cases where indicated for serious medical reasons or to prevent transmittal of hereditary defects to offspring. Sterilization should not be confused with use of reliable contraceptives whose effect upon fertility is always temporary.

LEGAL STATUS

It is now, and has been since 1936, legal throughout the United States, except in Massachusetts and Connecticut, for a physician to give pregnancy spacing advice to his patient when her health requires it.

Federal Court decisions in the '30s made clear that a long standing ban on the mailing and importation of contraceptives and contraceptive literature did not apply to physicians in their efforts to preserve the life and health of their patients. In 19 states, laws make no mention of conception control whatever. In 27 others, existing legislative restrictions do not apply to physicians. In only Massachusetts and Connecticut have courts ever applied existing statutes to prevent prescription of contraceptives by physicians.

PUBLIC OPINION

In the most recent public opinion poll on the subject, Fortune Magazine reported in its August 1943 issue that 84.9% of American women interviewed favored making birth control information available to all married women; the affirmative vote of the Catholic women polled was 69%. In 1940, the Gallup poll showed that 77% of the American public favored provision of birth control information, to married people who want it, through government public health clinics.

ENDORSEMENT BY CHURCHES

Most of the organized church groups of the Protestant and Jewish faiths have gone on record in favor of birth control. The Roman Catholic Church recognizes the need for family limitation but approves only of the "rhythm" method.

The National Clergymen's Advisory Council, comprising 1,000 leaders of Protestant and Jewish faiths, sponsor the Federation's religious program. Religious organizations which have endorsed the principles of planned parenthood include:

American Unitarian Association
Central Conference of American Rabbis
Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America
(Committee on Marriage and the Home)
General Council of Congregational and Christian Churches

Lambeth Conference of Anglican Bishops
Methodist Church, regional and state conferences
Protestant Episcopal Church, House of Bishops and House of Deputies
Rabbinical Assembly of America
Universalist General Convention

BY THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

In June 1937, the American Medical Association unanimously adopted the report of its Committee to Study Contraceptives, which recommended the teaching of contraception in medical schools; investigation of materials, devices and methods; and clarification to physicians of their legal rights in this field.

The great majority of physicians approve of birth control. Among the many medical organizations which have endorsed it are:

Section on Obstetrics, Gynecology and Abdominal
Surgery of the American Medical Association
American Gynecological Association
American Neurological Association
American Medical Women's National Association
National Committee on Maternal Health

Arizona State Public Health Association
Florida State Public Health Association
State Medical Societies (including Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Michigan, North Carolina, Southern Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia)

BY PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICIALS

Many Federal and State Health officers support planned parenthood as an important part of preventive medicine.

In seven states, pregnancy spacing is now a regular part of the state health program of maternal and child care. The same is true of many county and city health services.

In an "Outline of an Industrial Hygiene Program" (U. S. Public Health Reports, Supplement No. 171) the U. S. Public Health Service advises personnel executives in war industries, as follows:

"The counselor should refer married women workers with special problems to the medical service or a private physician for advice on the proper spacing of children as a means of protecting the health of the mother and her children."

BY OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Planned Parenthood Federation of America is an associate member of the National Health Council and a member of the National Conference of Social Work.

Among the more than a thousand organizations which have passed resolutions supporting planned parenthood are:

Parent-Teacher Associations, state and local State Conferences of Social Work
General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Association of University Women
National Council of Jewish Women
National Women's Trade Union League
Child Welfare Committee of America

Y.W.C.A., National Board.
National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods
Women's Int'l League for Peace and Freedom
Business and Professional Women's Clubs, state and local American Eugenics Society
American Civil Liberties Union
